Jim Hicks proprietor of Big Hawk Lake Marina turned to the wonders of cyber-technology and built his own web site after countless phone calls asking about the weather.

Life in the Fast Lane

Feature and Photos by Erin Tennant

Getting through an episode of Survivor without interruption just was not possible. Every Thursday night in the winter the phone would ring off the hook at Jim Hicks' marina on Big Hawk Lake. Jim himself would wriggle out of his comfy, TV-watching position on the sofa and trundle over to the receiver. He knew who it was and what they wanted. Essentially, it was the same person asking Jim the crushingly predictable question that would be heard up to 40 times in one night: "What's the weather like for snowmobiling, eh?"

But it was perhaps inevitable this was going to happen, given that Hicks' marina lies in the middle of a major snowmobiling artery used by thousands of winter trail lovers from surrounding counties.

"Eventually I just got a recorded phone message going," says Hicks.

But that too proved a hassle. So Hicks turned to the wonders of cyber-technology, downloading the do-it-yourself web page manual from network provider Sympatico, following the self-help guide and setting up his own daily weather update and accompanying photograph on the Internet. Within a month the phone calls had stopped.

That was in March 2002. Since then, Jim's web page – with a little help from the Haliburton County Snowmobile Association's John McMurchy – has expanded to several pages of competitions (such as 'spot the shot contest' or the 'ice in contest' beginning in November), photo albums, reviews, human interest spots, a local events guide and, of course, the renowned daily picture taken by digital camera first thing in the morning from the marina.

"Three years ago I would never have known I'd be running my own website," says Hicks. "Even e-mail sounded space age to me back then."

Nowadays, summer cottagers outnumber snowmobilers among web page readers, with over 52,000 hits recorded since the site first opened.

"That's 52,000 phone calls I didn't have to answer."

Many cottagers check the site regularly when they travel – and Hicks can produce the e-mails to prove it. Halls Lake resident Whitney Cranfield emails from Taiwan, where she is teaching English: "It was great to see some pictures from home."

Barrie cottager Jamie Pritchard e-mails: "I visit your site first thing every day when I get to work... It is nice to stay in touch with the greatest place in the world with a simple mouse click."

And as Haliburton moves closer to high-speed Internet connections, Hicks may even look forward to skipping the ritual photograph each morning. "I could always do a live web cam," he says optimistically.

OPP says ATV decision is up to municipalities

by MARTHA PERKINS
Times staff

It's up to local politicians to decide whether to allow ATVs on county and municipal roads, says Staff Sgt. Bob Walli of the Haliburton Highlands OPP detachment.

Walli says that while he's willing to speak to councils about the OPP's viewpoints about enforcement and safety, the detachment does not have an official position on whether councils should allow ATVs on all roads, no roads or just the portions that link trails.

The issue came up at Thursday's Algonquin Highlands council meeting when Reeve Eleanor Harrison reported on a meeting between municipal and ATV club representatives the previous day. Algonquin Highlands and Highlands East are leaning towards opening all roads but Dysart et al and Minden Hills seem to favour just opening those portions that allow ATVs to get from trail to trail.

Harrison said she didn't feel comfortable making a decision until she knew whether the OPP had had concerns about either option.

Walli says that there are logistical problems to opening up only certain portions of the roads. "If it's all or nothing, it's clear to everyone," he said in an interview after the meeting. "If it's not there's an onus on ATVs to know what roads they can be on. That will cause confusion."

The new 911 road numbering system will help lessen the confusion and Walli says that if only portions are open, officers will eventually become familiar with where ATVs are allowed.

"There certainly will be a learning curve for everyone," he says.

As to whether it's safe to have ATVs riding on roads that weren't designed with them in mind, Walli says, "We do have a safety concern from the standpoint that everyone will have to get used to it. It's one more thing for the motorist to be aware of and watch for."

"Conceivably with an eight or nine month ATV season we have a concern we'll see an increase in accidents because of the volume."

But as is the case with snowmobiles, Walli says the majority of riders will be responsible; it's only a handful who will ignore the rules against drinking and riding and the need to wear a helmet at all times.

Changes to the Highway Traffic Act make specific concessions about ATV use, such as only having one rider per ATV and lighting requirements.

Asked whether the police will turn enforcement over to municipalities — something Algonquin Highlands fears — Walli says he "does not foresee" that happening.

Meanwhile, Algonquin Highlands will tell the county that it is in favour of opening all roads in the municipality citing several reasons. Public works superintendent Brian Whetstone says the roads department was worried about maintaining all the signs which would indicate where ATVs are and isn't allowed. Councillor Jim Hicks said that if only portions of the roads were allowed, businesses which fell outside those boundaries would be discriminated against. Hicks also said that in the two months ATVs have been allowed on highways, he has seen only two on Hwy. 35.

Deputy-reeve Don Shortreed said they should open up all roads and if there are problems then the policy can be reviewed.

Council passed a motion telling the county that all county roads in the municipality should be opened to ATVs.

Now that ATVs are allowed on provincial highways — so they can have lunch at places such as Carnarvon's Mill Pond Restaurant — municipalities have to decide whether to open all roads to ATVs or just portions of them.

Candidates to debate issues

Voters in Minden Hills, Algonquin Highlands and Dysart et al will have an opportunity to meet the candidates for their respective ridings at all candidates meetings this month.

An all-candidates meeting for Minden Hills council hopefuls will take place at Archie Stouffer Elementary School on Friday, October 17 from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

Since the only race is confined to only one ward of Algonquin Highlands, the candidates' meeting will be held at the Oxtongue Lake Community Centre on Saturday, October 25, starting at 7:30 p.m. Candidates for the other wards of Algonquin Highlands have been acclaimed.

Dysart et al's all-candidates meeting is Thursday, October 23 at 7:30 p.m. at the Haliburton Legion. Peter Forgrave will be the moderator.

The slate of candidates for the Galway, Cavendish and Harvey municipal election include the following:

Donated books prove to be 'healthy'

Health for Life gives 20 books to local library system

by SHERYL LOUCKS
Times Staff

Running For Women is the title of one of 20 new books about physical activities and health that have been donated by Health for Life and friends of the Haliburton County Library to the library system.

The new partnership between the Friends and Health For Life is one of the first accomplishments of the Friends as they pass the year-old mark.

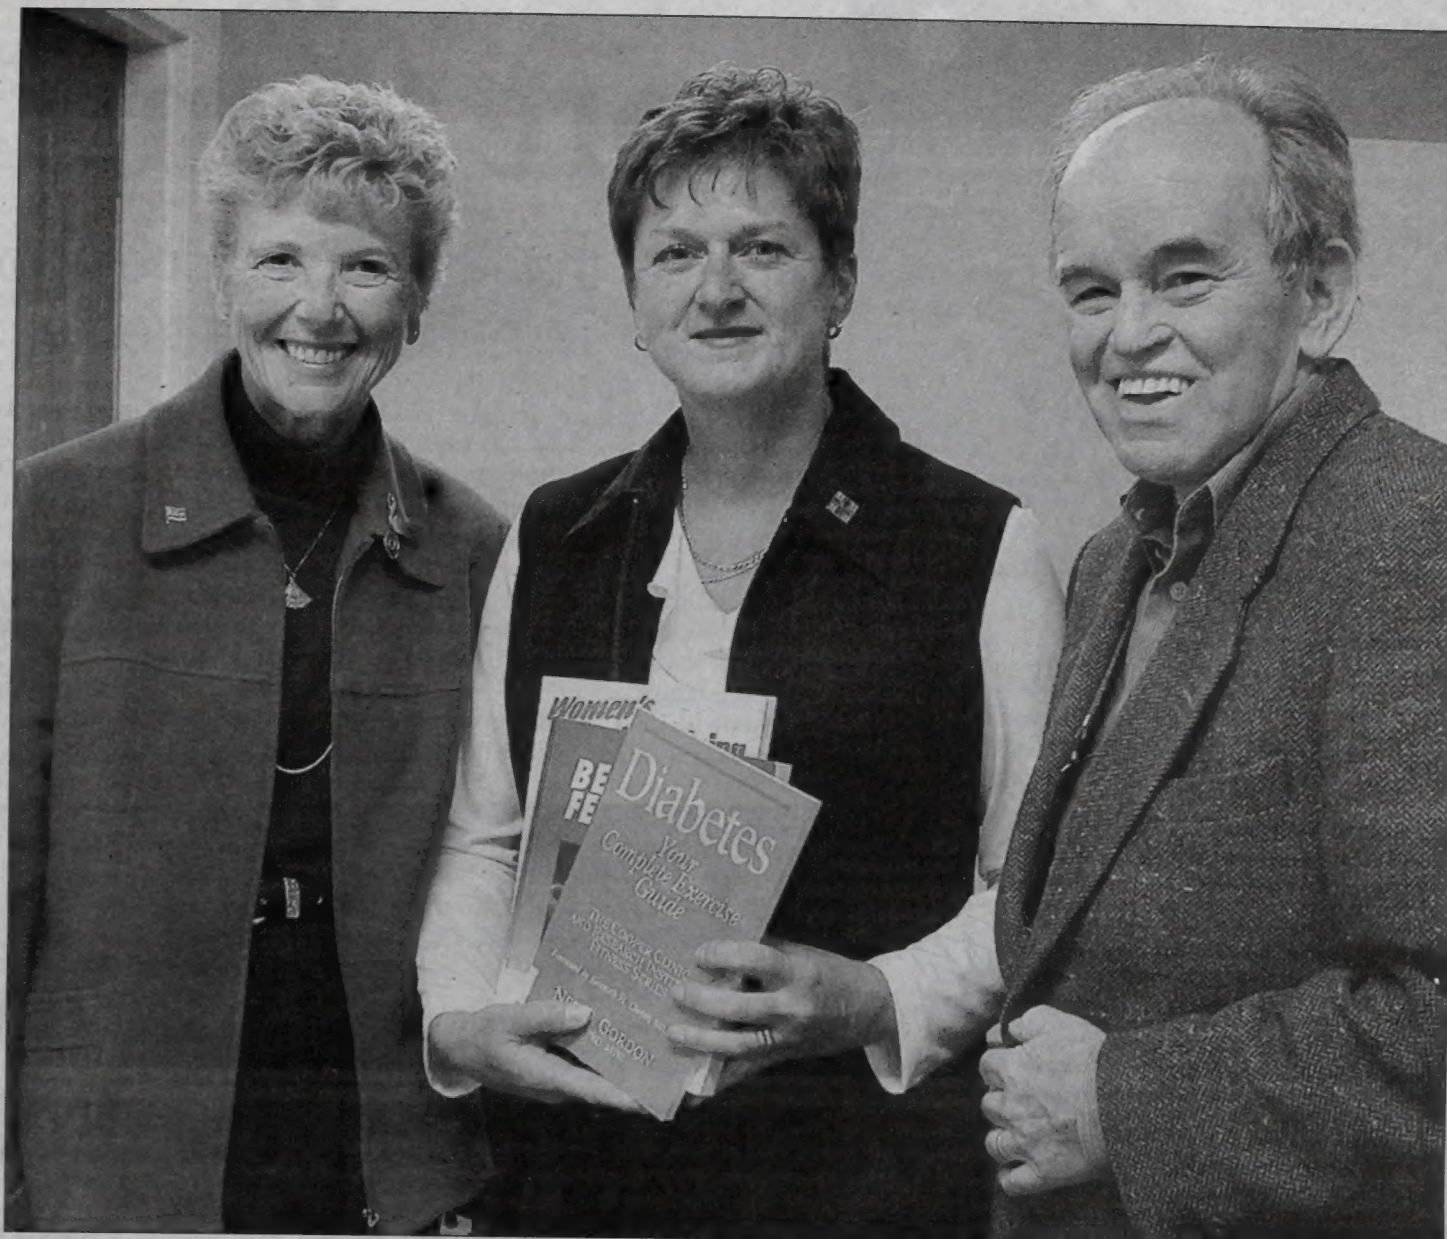

At the presentation of the books in Haliburton last week, Friends spokesperson Michael Fay said that creating partnerships is the only way to accomplish things. The Friends now have 80 members from the library system's eight branches and the society is in the process of getting charitable status and organizing an annual general meeting. The society has also joined the Friends of Canadian Libraries and received advice from the Southern Ontario Library Service.

"Today we celebrate the fruits of our first major partnership. Health for Life has donated 20 fantastic books about health and fitness, as a part of a three-phase donation this year. These books will give the library a significant set of holdings to help the people of the county live healthier, longer, and happier lives," Fay said.

The books can be ordered for pick-up in your local branch by asking the staff or by going through the web site at www.libris.ca/halhi/. The website is a wonderful thing to have, says Eleanor Malcomson, trustee for the Haliburton County Public Library. Being able to move the books around to the people who need them is so much better than having them sit on a shelf collecting dust. She also expressed her gratitude to Robin Anthony from Health for Life and the Friends for their efforts.

Anthony says the goal of Health For Life is to reduce the numbers of those who die prematurely from illness and to promote the value of healthy active living. She added the books that are donated are a valuable resource.

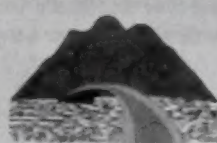

Fay said access to cultural facilities such as libraries creates a sense of identity and a feeling of belonging that promotes physical and mental health, and engenders equity and opportunity for expression.

Eleanor Malcomson, trustee for the Haliburton County Public Library, accepts a donation of books about how to stay active from Robin Anthony representing Health For Life and Michael Fay from the Friends of the Haliburton County Library.

"A robust relationship with family and community, and a positive relationship with cultural and recreational opportunities create resilience in young people. And, the lack of recreational and cultural policies, programs and facilities may lead to alienation, withdrawal, and negative social behaviour, the great drivers of ill health," says Fay.

The Friends will also be working with Health For Life to do something in December highlighting kids and in March the two groups will towards doing something to promote healthy activities/food for March Break. Anne-Marie Cyr, public health nurse, also attended the presentation to promote the new "get movin'" web site on the family services site at www.familyserviceshaliburton.ca. The site has a "get movin'" button on it that will take viewers to a continually growing list of activities in the county and information about being physically active.

National committee interested in better understanding womens health issues

Researchers with the National Steering Committee on Rural and Remote Women's Health are interested in better understanding the health and health care experiences that woman living in a rural or remote community have. It is particularly interested in the effects of health care reform and restructuring on women's access to health services and the quality of those services.

The committee would also like to be able to identify the changes that need to be made to improve upon the situation facing many women in rural and remote communities across Canada.

To this end, it has developed the following website for women to anonymously share their thoughts and feelings about these issues:

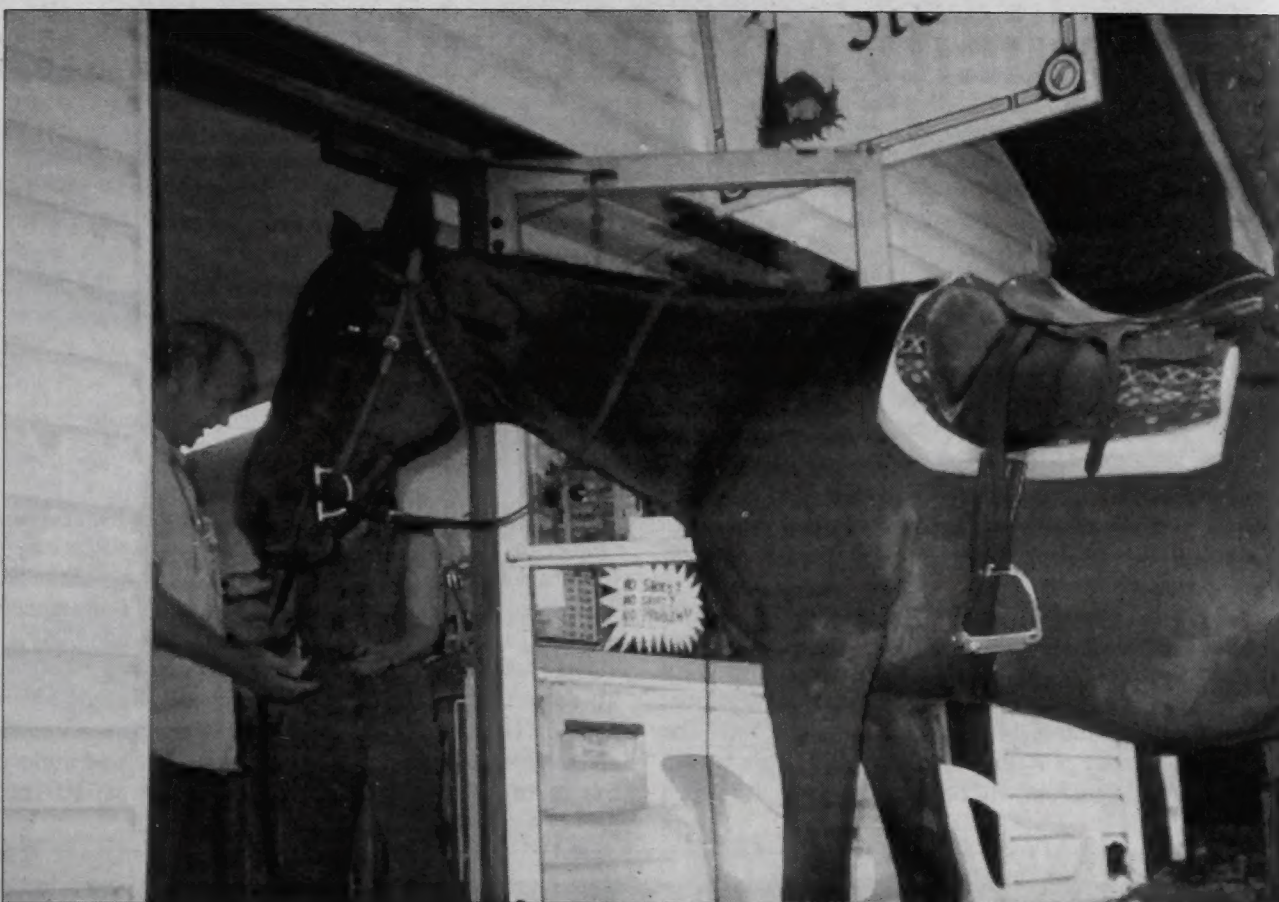

<http://www.surveymonkey.com/s.asp?u=60253264696>

If you would prefer to speak to someone directly, it has also set up a 24-hour, toll-free number through the Canadian Women's Health Network for you to leave your name and contact information for follow up: 1-888-818-9172 ext. 18.

All information is kept strictly confidential.

Information will be collected up until December 2003.

Funding for this research is provided by Status of Women Canada. A full report of research findings will be made available by March 2004.

I prefer carrots

Sandy and Mike McClean of Ingoldsby Junction Store finally found a customer who didn't like Sandy's butter tarts. Skynnyrd the horse, owned by Nancy Lee, prefers carrots. Nancy boards Skynnyrd at Briar Winds Farm, which is not far from the store and Nancy often stops for a tart. The McCleans aren't offended that Skynnyrd doesn't like the Sandy's butter tarts. He isn't a paying customer anyway.

Go take a hike

Hikes and walks have been developed to appeal to all age ranges and abilities and feature a broad range of themes including geology, technology, ecosystems, the arts, nutrition ... and poop.

Two years ago it was just an idea but in just two weeks, the Hike Haliburton Festival will be a reality. What's a hiking festival, you ask? Well, it's when people come and stay overnight, spend time on the trails, enjoy the outdoors and learn something new.

The festival idea came from consultants hired by the Chamber of Commerce with a portion of the provincial government's $250,000 tourism development grant in 1999. The Trails and Tours Network embraced the idea and when it applied to the Ontario Living Legacy grant program the festival was included and received were funds to implement it.

"When Trails and Tours looked at the event strategy, it was a natural fit for us to pursue it. It's also a great fit with the community given our focus on trails, ecotourism, health and shoulder season development," says Network president Barrie Martin.

Offering an array of adventures, live entertainment, a dance, a silent auction and free BBQ, the first ever hiking festival in the province seems poised for success.

"It's been a long and interesting road, but it's finally here and we're really excited," says Trails and Tours Network Executive Director Lindsay Elder.

Elder says hikes and walks have been developed to appeal to all age ranges and abilities and feature a broad range of themes including geology, technology, ecosystems, the arts, nutrition ... and poop.

'Get the Scoop on Poop' is, indeed, one of the scheduled hikes. Algonquin Park Naturalist Kevin Clute answers all the questions you are alleged ever to have had about animal poop but were afraid to ask. The experience – said to be very entertaining, includes an indoor scat review, an outdoor search and the highlight: learning the poop song, aptly entitled "The Scat Rap."

The GPS Scavenger Hunt lets folks use technology to find a series of clues, visit each checkpoint and solve the puzzle to be eligible to win a prize.

"You can bring your own GPS until or borrow one of ours, but we only have six to loan out so it's first come, first served," says Elder.

The geology hike, entitled 'Gems Beneath your Boots' features a visit to private property for a unique geological highlight: fluorrichterite. No, it's not for your teeth; it's a very rare mineral that exists in only a few places in the entire world!

Hikes are located all around the county and hike leaders include a Fleming College professor, an MNR educator, Algonquin Park staff and local hikers, all of whom have donated their time and knowledge to contribute to the festival.

"The local contributions have been wonderful and it's this kind of volunteerism that makes events like these so special to a community," says Elder, noting that, among other donations, Wigamog Inn sponsored a television commercial.

Festival participants can choose from 12 different hikes with titles like Roam the Ridge, Foliage Frolic!, Llama Walk, Barking up the Right Tree, Walking on the Right Side of Your Brain and Milling 'round the Mill, the latter of which takes place on the private trail system of Stouffer Mill B+B at Halls Lake.

"Visitors say our trails are nice and soft compared to Algonquin Park trails and everyone loves to see the beaver ponds," says Don Pflug, owner of Stouffer Mill.

The renowned Walk in the Clouds is included, too, so for those who never quite managed to book a canopy tour, now's your chance. This experience is the only one that comes with a fee; the rest are free.

The festival kicks off Friday October 17 with several hikes throughout the day and in the evening a free barbecue will be held at the Haliburton Highlands Outdoors Association facility on County Road 1, offering a night hike on the association's brand new trail, tours of the fish hatchery and live entertainment with performer David Archibald.

"Friday is family day and it will be a fabulous evening at the hatchery for kids and adults alike," says Elder.

The Blister Ball and Silent Auction is Saturday night at Carnarvon Bowl and features live music and dancing with Toronto band Coyote Wild and catering by Franka's Delectables.

"The band is excellent, plays everything and has a 700-song repertoire. It's going to be a great night out and you don't have to be a hiker or be involved in the festival to come to the dance," says Elder.

In a community eager for shoulder season initiatives, the hiking festival should be a welcome addition to the region's growing list of fall events. Requests for information on the festival have come from a hiking club in Toronto, a mineral club in Kingston, Canadian Geographic magazine and several freelance writers from the Travel Media Association of Canada. CHEX TV is sending its Special Events Team for the weekend.

"People want shoulder season initiatives, well, here's one virtually on a platter. I ask everyone to put up the posters, invite friends for the weekend, join one of the hikes, come out to the dance and make this thing a resounding annual success for the entire county," says Carol Moffatt, Marketing Coordinator for the Chamber of Commerce.

Tickets for the dance are available at Henwood's Variety in Haliburton, the Chamber of Commerce office in Minden and the Trails and Tours office in Carnarvon.

To find out more details about the hikes, including times, difficulty levels and registration, call the Trails and Tours Network at 489-4049 or visit www.trailsandtours.on.ca.

Hikes are located all around the county and hike leaders such as Bonnie Webster donate their time and knowledge to contribute to the festival.

Flurries are a wake up call to season ahead

Due to the number of interesting events taking place in our communities this harvest season I will spare you my farmhouse rambles until next week. Colours on the Galway Road are deepening and we, like you, are getting ready for colder weather. Thursday's wet snow flurries were a wake-up call, winter boots were retrieved from storage for a quick inventory, and the Sears catalogue thumbed through yet again.

The Kinmount and Area Business Association invites you to its 2. Annual HarvestFest on Saturday, October 11 in conjunction with the Kinmount Harvest Homecoming Studio Tour which takes place on both Saturday and Sunday of Thanksgiving weekend. A Homemade Pancake Breakfast and Hamburger Lunch will be served on Main Street from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Afternoon events include free Wagon Rides from 1-4 p.m. and at the Railway Station. The Candlelight Trio will be playing in the Gazebo from 1:30-4:30 p.m. and you can sign up for the Historical Walking Tours, which will set out at 2 p.m. Bring along your own pumpkin to be measured at the Gazebo for the Biggest Pumpkin Contest or participate in the Jack O'Lantern Carving Contest. Street Vendors and a Farmers' Market will offer their wares and the Artisans Marketplace will welcome your visit and provide you with Studio Tour information if needed.

October will be a busy month at the Kinmount Legion Branch 441 with Big Bucks Big Euchre taking place on Wednesday, October 15 at 11 a.m. High and Low will be played and the $10 fee includes lunch. Car Rally hopefuls should sign up at the Branch on Saturday, October 18 at 9:30 a.m. and Karaoke fans can plan to join the "Back Forty Music Man" at 7 p.m. for some great music. The Legion would like to thank everyone who came out and participated or helped in any way to make its recent Legion Week such a success. Special mention goes to Bill and Leah Bluett, who donated the door prize which was won by Karin Berry of Kinmount. Some one hundred participants enjoyed the various events and next week's column will include those results.

Kinmount United Church is getting ready for its annual Harvest Feast Supper on Saturday, October 18 at the Kinmount Legion. A menu of roast pork, sausages, scalloped potatoes, baked beans and salads with homemade pumpkin pie as the main attraction will be served from 4 to 6:30 p.m. Tickets are sold at the door so come out and enjoy the food and festivities.

Minden and Area Weather for September

by PHIL GRAHAM
Special to Times

September was a different month, with two choices. The first half of the month was very pleasant, with lots of sunshine and average temperatures. The second choice – the last half of the month – was a wash out, with lots of rain and wind.

The changeover started with the tail end of hurricane Isobel. The next storm was two or three days later, with more rain and more wind – worse than Isobel. The thunderstorm on September 27 was also bad, with more rain and wind. All and all, double the rain of last September.

The average temperature was cooler than last September.

There was no frost at this station, although there was frost in various locations in the county.

As of September 30, there was not much colour in the trees. It should be a good show for Thanksgiving.

Hurricanes still on the go, after the bad one named Juan, which pummeled Nova Scotia, include Kate, Larry, Mindy and Nicholas.

- Average high 21.0°C; 69.8°F
- Average low 8.0°C; 46.4°F
- Average for the month 14.5°C; 58.1°F
- Average for last September 16.8°C; 62.2°F
- Highest temperature, September 11 28.5°C; 83.3°F
- Lowest temperature, September 30 1.0°C; 33.8°F
- Rain 125.3 mm 4.9 in.
- Total precipitation for last September 62.8 mm 2.4 in.
- Days mostly sunny 12
- Days with snow or rain 12

Research season opens again

Facts help community businesses and agencies

by MICHAEL FAY
Special to Times

Geese are honking down the Gull River valley, hills are sprinkled with brilliant strokes of red, school buses are back on their faithful schedules, and research is on the minds of businesses, community groups and agencies in Haliburton County.

Research? That's right, research.

U-Links is into another season of matching students from Trent University with community-based research projects in the county. The projects will take the students below the surface of things to find out important facts about our history, economic development, environment and how best to serve our citizens with health, social and cultural services. Sixteen projects are looking for student matches this fall, ranging from a market research project proposed by Photo Solutions in Minden, to a micro-hydro project for Emmerson Lumber in Haliburton, to an exploration of settlement roads and ghost towns for the Gooderham Over 50s Club.

Kate Hall, Co-ordinator of U-Links, works from an office on the second floor of the municipal building in Minden. She's been spending a lot of time on the road between her office and the Trent University campus in Peterborough, making frequent recruiting trips to match students with local projects. The U-Links Management Committee, led by Marie Gage, continues to beat the bushes in the county, encouraging friends and associates to take advantage of this unique opportunity.

Here's the line-up of projects looking for student matches this fall, including some projects going into a second year of research:

A Code of Ethics for Trail Use, Haliburton Forest and Wildlife Reserve;

Operation Impact

Annual OPP Thanksgiving weekend traffic blitz

OPP officers across the province will be joining with police services across Canada to bring road safety to the forefront this holiday Thanksgiving weekend. This national law enforcement initiative has been so successful, it has grown from a one-day blitz to include the entire Thanksgiving weekend, from Friday, October 10 through to Monday, October 13.

Last year in Ontario over 463 people lost their lives and more than 15,065 were injured in traffic accidents. Senseless injuries and tragic loss of life have a profound impact on thousands of families. The Ontario Provincial Police wants to do something about this very serious problem. Officers will be out across the province targeting impaired driving, ensuring seatbelt use and at risk road users such as pedestrians, cyclist, and motorcyclists.

"Our message is clear," said Supt. Bob Goodall, Commander, Field and Traffic Services. "Drinking and driving kills, understand the dangers of the road and buckle up. The OPP needs your help to make Operation Impact a success and stop the tragic loss of life on our roads."

In the last 12 years, the officers involved in this initiative have saved many lives and helped to prevent many crashes by removing the drinking driver from the roads and ensuring everyone buckles up. The OPP, through their participation in Operation Impact, are out to change the way drivers think about safe driving.

Let's all do our part to ensure everyone has a safe and enjoyable Thanksgiving Weekend.

440 THANK YOU

A SPECIAL THANK you to my family, Denise, Karen, Suzanne, Paul, Andrew, Samantha, Kelsey and Lindsey, for arranging the perfect surprise birthday party for me. I don't know how so many relatives and friends were able to keep this a secret beforehand.
 What a surprise! I feel blessed that so many of you, both near and far, were there to join in the celebration. Your gifts, cards and best wishes were very much appreciated. I would also like to thank all those who were involved in the preparation of the party - it was wonderful.
 This is one birthday that I will never forget. Again, thank you for a great day! Love, Georgina (Mom/Grandma) Parkes.

THE FAMILY OF Peter Dollo would like to thank all who sent flowers, cards, food, made donations and who shared all their hugs and sympathy with us in our loss of a loving father and grandfather. A special "thank you" to Father Bill for his words of comfort and the ladies of the church for their delicious luncheon. Thank you also to Dr.
 Roos, Dr. Lingertat and the nurses at Minden Hospital for their compassionate care of Dad. The wonderful care from the girls from Home Care and Paramed enabled him to stay in his own home, as he wished.
 As always, Barry and Kirsten and the Gord Monk Funeral Home looked after us with compassion and professionalism.
 Dad always considered this a very warm and loving community. He was proud to call it home for 60 years. Marianne and Caesar, David and Diane and families.

CA

THE FAMILY OF the late Dan Swinson would like to take this opportunity to thank everyone who brought food to the house, sent floral tributes, cards, memorial donations, calls, visits and words of comfort. To Barry, Kirsten and Gord, we would like to express our sincere appreciation for your care and compassion. Very special thank you to our family, Cindy McElwain, Porky, Diane and Paul Walker, and Dudman Construction, for everything you did for us. Your love, care and concern is greatly appreciated. Marilyn, Boone, Lynne, Joanne and families.

WHO WOULD HAVE thought my swim to Puffer's Island and back would be so successful? I was able to raise over $3,200 for Breast Cancer Research. I could not have done this without the support of so many people. A very special thank you to Tim Higgins, and the friendly families on Puffer's Island; my entire family, my cousin Jamie Stewart for helping with the donation boxes, the Minden Times and Echo, Kash Landing for the use of their dock, Bonnie View, Wigamog and Halimar, Royal LePage vanLieshout Realty, Dollo's IGA, Diane Welborn and all of Minden United Church, and the Ingoldsby Junction Store. Again, thank you to everyone who helped out. Every contribution was very much appreciated! Sincerely, Amanda Lytle.

450 IN MEMORIAM

MARILYN - In memory of my dear sister.
 Sweet memories will linger forever,
 Time cannot change them, it's true;
 Years that may come cannot sever
 My loving remembrance of you.
 With love, Nancy.

450 IN MEMORIAM

MISCIO, MIKE - In loving memory of a dear father who passed away September 1, 1972.
 Papa, I miss you in so many ways,
 I miss your daily guidance too;
 You are with me each and every day of my life.
 Always loved, daughter Nell.

PERRY ALLAN KIMBLE - In memory of our loving son and Dad, who went home to Heaven, September 20, 1992.
 We often lie awake at night
 When the world is fast asleep,
 And take a walk down memory lane
 With tears upon our cheeks.
 The years we had with Percy
 Are worth their weight in gold,
 The love and laughter he gave us
 Are still ours to have and hold.
 It seems only yesterday
 That he was just a boy...
 But memory is a gift from God
 That earth cannot destroy.
 1 Thess. 4:14 - For if we believe that Jesus died and rose again, even so them also which sleep in Jesus will God bring with Him.
 Lovingly cherished forever,
 Mother, Dad and Joshua.
